11/21 Re Gage, NYTimes, Secret Service political spying. This agency is so little known to the press that he mislocates it. The Treasury is accross from the White House, but the SS's protective Research part is at 1800 G, St. several blocks on the other side. Warner is more than a spokesman. He is the director of p.r. And I thought it odd, with all the men he has protected, that Tom Kelley s office has autographed pictures of the present regime only. There seemed to be a basic change in his attitude toward me when he consulted DJ about a request I made, one he had already granted only to have the Archives intercept and reject.
